I currently have a Peavey TKO115 combo, but it's too loud, too big, and way, way too pretty almost narrowed it down to the Roland CB30 (30 watter) or the Roland 20XL (20 watter). Both have excellent reviews as far as tonal quality and portability. The rule of thumb is if the guitar amp is X watts, the bass amp is 2x watts. I had a roland cube 20x I would play on in the house. I know there is a lot of reviews on this amp, but nobody really gives an idea on the volume of I have the most fun with mid gain to crunch voicing on my combo.
